Regional Defense Counterterrorism Fellowship Program

Fiscal Year
2005

Report to Congress

This report is presented by the Department of Defense in accordance with Title 10 of the United States Code, section 2249c

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This report is presented by the Department of Defense (DoD) in accordance with Title 10 of the United States Code, section 2249c.

The Regional Defense Counterterrorism Fellowship Program (CTFP) is a DoD security cooperation tool that provides education and training to international security personnel as part of the U.S. global effort to combat terrorism.

The goals of the CTFP are 1) to build and reinforce the combating terrorism capabilities of partner nations; 2) to build and strengthen a global network of combating terrorism experts and practitioners committed to participation in support of U.S. efforts against terrorists and terrorist organizations; and 3) to counter ideological support for terrorism.

To achieve these goals, the CTFP provides combatant commanders with resources to foster regional cooperation and to professionalize foreign combating terrorism capabilities. The Program provides targeted combating terrorism education to key senior and mid-level military officials, ministry of defense civilians, and other foreign security officials. Personnel recommended for the CTFP by the combatant commands are expected to have a positive impact on their country's ability to cooperate with the United States in the war on terrorism.

The Assistant Secretary of Defense for Special Operations and Low Intensity Conflict (ASD SO/LIC) provides program policy oversight and management, and the Defense Security Cooperation Agency (DSCA) provides financial management.

This report accounts for the expenditure of appropriated funds during Fiscal Year 2005 (FY05) for the CTFP, including: the countries that received CTFP funding; the total amount of funding provided for each country; and the educational courses attended by the foreign officers and officials. The report also includes an assessment of the effectiveness of the Program and a review of DoD's efforts to improve the Program.

As detailed in the report, the CTFP sponsored 527 combating terrorism educational events in FY05. These events involved 2,782 security personnel from 93 countries, and the CTFP conducted programs in 32 foreign countries, all with the goal of meeting the needs identified by the regional combatant commanders.

The contents of this report are unclassified, and reflect data gathered from multiple sources, including Security Assistance Organizations, Combatant Commanders and other DoD entities.

I. REGIONAL DEFENSE COUNTERTERRORISM FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE GLOBAL WAR ON TERRORISM (GWOT)

A. OVERVIEW

The Department of Defense Regional Defense Counterterrorism Fellowship Program (CTFP) enables the Department of Defense (DoD) to assist key countries in the war on terrorism by providing education and training for international military officers and ministry of defense and security officials. The CTFP has become the “go to” program within DoD to develop and strengthen CBT capabilities and capacities of partner nations in the GWOT.

The CTFP’s goals are: 1) to build or reinforce the combating terrorism capabilities and capacities of partner nations; 2) to build and strengthen a global network of combating terrorism experts and practitioners committed to participation in support of U.S. efforts against terrorists and terrorist organizations; and 3) to counter ideological support for terrorism.

The CTFP works hand-in-hand with the combatant commands to identify candidates for educational programs and to develop CBT programs specifically tailored to partner nations. Combatant commands recommend participants to the Office of the Secretary of Defense for approval. Target candidates include senior and mid-level military officials, ministry of defense civilians, and other foreign security officials who could have an impact, directly or indirectly, on their country’s ability to cooperate with the United States in the war on terrorism. CTFP funds these students to attend programs in the United States and abroad. All personnel are verified for human rights compliance.

B. BACKGROUND

The CTFP funds existing, traditional programs, and newly developed educational activities designed to strengthen individual, country, and regional combating terrorism capabilities and capacities. These programs enable partner countries to address threats of terrorism within their borders more effectively and they help strengthen support for U.S. and coalition efforts to defeat terrorism.

The CTFP has also helped countries recognize the importance of fighting terrorism, and the Program is building an international network of individuals who share a common understanding of the terrorist threat. The network, as it grows, will be decreasingly dependent on the United States for support for independent activities targeted at terrorism.

C. REPORT REQUIREMENTS

Pursuant to the requirement of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2004, section 1221 (10 U.S.C. 2249c), “not later than December 1 of each year, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report on the administration of this section during the fiscal year ended in such year.”

This report is submitted by the Department in accordance with Title 10 of the United States Code, section 2249c:

- (1) A complete accounting of the expenditure of appropriated funds for purposes authorized under subsection (a), including:
 - (A) the countries of the foreign officers and officials for whom costs were paid; and
 - (B) for each such country, the total amount of the costs paid.
- (2) The training courses attended by the foreign officers and officials, including a specification of which, if any, courses were conducted in foreign countries.
- (3) An assessment of the effectiveness of the Regional Defense Counterterrorism Fellowship Program in increasing the cooperation of the governments of foreign countries with the United States in the global war on terrorism.
- (4) A discussion of any actions being taken to improve the Program.

D. SUMMARY OF EXPENDITURES AND TRAINING EVENTS

The following table details CTFP expenditures, by country, within the respective areas of responsibilities of the combatant commanders. It also provides the number of different CTFP training events conducted, by country, including those events conducted in foreign countries, as well as total training events for each category.

E. PROGRAM ASSESSMENT AND ACCOMPLISHMENTS

i. Assessment

The CTFP is one of the few USG programs that trains a broad range of foreign CBT military officers and security officials and provides specialized programs to address individual country needs. CTFP programs include military, national police, gendarmerie, internal security, border security, and other security officials. As such, the Program enables the DoD to implement the President's National Strategy for Combating Terrorism more effectively by providing resources that can be targeted to the integration of the seven elements of national power: military, informational, diplomatic, law enforcement, intelligence, financial and economic.

In FY05, 2,782 foreign military and security officials attended CTFP-funded programs. The CTFP provided 527 educational programs, including 111 events in 32 foreign countries in all five Regional Combatant Commands. This included CBT education and training support to emerging regional and sub-regional organizations and alliances.

The CTFP broadened the Program's reach in FY05 by engaging countries that had not previously sent students to CTFP programs. Cambodia, Lebanon, Nicaragua, Oman, Saudi Arabia, Slovakia and Slovenia sent students to CTFP programs for the first time in FY05. Canada and Kuwait have expressed interest in sending students in FY06. Generally, the Program will seek to attract more traditional U.S. allies and partners (e.g., NATO members), which will enhance the CBT educational experience for new GWOT partners. Finally, the CTFP is working more closely with U.S. Special Operations Command and the in-theater Special Operations Component Commands in order to ensure that they have a voice in CTFP education.

ii. Accomplishments

CTFP has significantly expanded its traditional course offerings and has developed a wide range of new programs. The Program's accomplishments in FY05 are best summarized by describing the following categories: 1) curriculum development; 2) regional- and country-specific activities; and 3) regional center initiatives.

1. CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT

- The CTFP collaborated with the National Defense University to re-tool the “Counterterrorism Fellows Program” – a certificate-granting program that was created by the CTFP – into a Master’s degree-granting program. Among other things, this process involved developing a new curriculum, and the development process will likely continue throughout Fiscal Year 2006, as SO/LIC conducts a review of current courses, maps out linkage with the five DoD Regional Centers, and finalizes budgetary needs.
- The CTFP provided support to the Joint Special Operations University (JSOU) to develop a new course on “Joint Special Operations Combating Terrorism,” which will be offered as a pilot course in June 2006.
- The CTFP funded two mobile training team courses regarding Human Intelligence Collection and Analysis for countries in the U.S. European Command area of responsibility.
- The CTFP funded a new workshop on “Bio-terrorism Defense” conducted in Poland, with a follow-on mobile course in the United States, at the request of U.S. European Command.
- The CTFP funded a new mobile seminar on “Human Rights Violations” in Thailand.

2. REGIONAL AND COUNTRY-SPECIFIC ACTIVITIES

- The CTFP continued to stress regional combating terrorism education by funding tailored mobile courses focused on Latin America (conducted in Panama, with 11 countries participating); Europe (conducted in Hungary, with 9 countries participating); Africa (conducted at the Kofi Annan International Peacekeeping Center in Ghana, with 16 countries participating); Southeast Asia (conducted at the Southeast Asia Regional Center for Counterterrorism in Malaysia, with 6 countries participating); and the Caribbean (conducted in Jamaica, with 16 countries participating).
- Lebanon sent students to a number of CTFP courses and programs for the first time during FY05. These courses included the “Counterterrorism Fellows Program” at the National Defense University, the Master of Science curriculum in “Special Operations” at the Naval Postgraduate School and a mobile course on “Legal Aspects of Combating Terrorism.” As a result of political changes in Lebanon and Lebanon’s engagement in the CTFP during FY05, Lebanon has received a direct CTFP allocation for Fiscal Year 2006.
- The CTFP funded a mobile seminar on “Civil-Military Responses to Terrorism” in Cambodia, which was attended by 50 personnel from the Ministry of Interior, Ministry of National Defense, and other ministries and agencies. As a result, the Cambodian Ministry of Public Affairs and the Ministry of Transportation will conduct a unilateral CBT seminar before the end of 2005, which will be led by a graduate of the earlier seminar.

- The CTFP funded a series of mobile training courses conducted by the U.S. Coast Guard on “Maritime Law Enforcement,” “Counterterrorism Interdiction Planning,” and “Waterside Port Security.” The courses provided the Bangladeshi Navy and Coast Guard with advanced counterterrorism tactics, techniques and procedures for apprehending criminals and terrorists at sea, preventing smuggling and securing port complexes from seaborne terrorist threats.
- The CTFP funded a mobile course on behalf of India on “Cyber Terrorism,” which will assist India in integrating an interagency approach to countering cyber-terror threats.
- The CTFP funded a series of seminars on Special Operations and Counterterrorism in the United States on behalf of the Royal Thai Army Special Warfare Command. This program was organized and led by the U.S. Pacific Command.
- The CTFP provided support to the NATO School (SHAPE) for a multinational course on “NATO Defense against Terrorism.”
- The CTFP funded a course entitled “Challenges to NATO’s Transformation: A Look across the Mediterranean,” in which seven Mediterranean Dialogue nations participated. This course was conducted by the George C. Marshall Center for European Studies.
- The CTFP expanded its focus on Africa, with an additional four African countries receiving direct CTFP allocations in FY05, bringing the total to 15.
- The CTFP funded the U.S. Special Operations Command to train the Mexican Special Operations forces on how best to employ their forces for CBT operations. This training helped fortify Mexico’s CBT capabilities and strengthened the bond between the U.S. and Mexican Special Forces communities.
- The CTFP continued to develop an intensive program to build English language capabilities in Cambodia, Chad and Mauritania, which will prepare these countries to participate more fully in substantive combating terrorism education.

3. REGIONAL CENTER INITIATIVES

- During FY05, the CTFP continued to provide funding to the five DoD Regional Centers to conduct combating terrorism programs (the Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies, the George C. Marshall European Center for Security Studies, the Center for Hemispheric Defense Studies, the Near East South Asia Center for Strategic Studies, and the Africa Center for Strategic Studies).
- The CTFP envisions that the five Regional Centers will play a role in the NDU Master’s degree program currently under development, with the Centers offering courses for credit that can be applied toward the Master’s degree.

- The CTFP funded the latest iteration of the Marshall Center’s five-week “Program on Terrorism and Security Studies,” in which dozens of nations from all regions participated.
- The CTFP funded the “Comprehensive Security Responses to Terrorism” three-week seminar conducted by the Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies. Sixteen nations participated in this course.
- The CTFP funded the “Interagency Coordination and Counterterrorism” course conducted by the Center for Hemispheric Defense Studies. Eighteen Latin American nations participated in this course.
- The CTFP funded a seminar conducted by the Center for Hemispheric Defense Studies at the Colombia War College concerning terrorist organizations and their operations. This course enables Colombia to provide its future military leaders with planning tactics and strategies for combating terrorism at the strategic level.
- The CTFP funded the “Junior Officers Counterterrorism Fellowship” course conducted by the Africa Center for Strategic Studies, in collaboration with West Point.
- The CTFP funded a pilot seminar at the Near East South Asia Center for Strategic Studies on “Combating Terrorism,” also in conjunction with West Point.

F. PROGRAM IMPROVEMENT INITIATIVES

As the CTFP matures and evolves, SO/LIC, in coordination with DoD and interagency partners, is pursuing a number of initiatives to improve and enhance the Program:

1) Process and Procedure: In order to carry out its mission more effectively, SO/LIC worked in FY05 to improve the processes and procedures for approving CTFP proposals. This entailed more responsive and timely review within DoD of all requests for CTFP funding, including training within the United States, mobile courses conducted abroad, and Regional Center programs conducted both in the United States and abroad. In conjunction with key DoD offices, the CTFP prepared and disseminated two guidance messages that contribute to more effective implementation and management of the program. The CTFP is also completing a message that provides an overview of eligible programs.

2) Participant Database: An easily accessible database to track students and programs funded by CTFP is an important tool in evaluating and reporting on the Program. CTFP is working with partners that have established student tracking databases, such as the National Defense University and the Marshall Center, in order to utilize these existing tools. CTFP envisions these outreach tools will be applied to other security cooperation programs, and CTFP alumni networks can be drawn on to support senior-level DoD visits to partner nations.

3) Maintaining and Honing Combating Terrorism Focus: To ensure that the CTFP maintains its focus on combating terrorism education and training, SO/LIC commenced an assessment of the courses CTFP has funded since the inception of the Program. This assessment will likely result in the CTFP funding a variety of new courses. For those key countries that do not receive International Military Education and Training (IMET) or other applicable funding, CTFP will consider funding IMET-type courses in order to keep these partners engaged in combating terrorism education (e.g., Cambodia does not presently receive IMET funding, but it needs to build an English language capability in order to participate in substantive combating terrorism training offered under the CTFP).

G. SUMMARY

Consistent with the statutory authority provided by Congress, the CTFP has become a valuable tool in the fight against terrorism and the Program fills a crucial void in U.S. efforts to provide targeted international combating terrorism education. Building on previous efforts, the CTFP made significant strides during Fiscal Year 2005 to develop and reinforce the combating terrorism capabilities of our partner nations, and to strengthen a global network of combating terrorism experts committed to the fight against terrorists and terrorist organizations. Combating terrorism education and training have proven to be a strategic tool in the war on terrorism that effectively supplements the efforts of regional combatant commanders in accomplishing their missions.

II. COUNTRY TRAINING ACTIVITIES

The following tables present a breakout of individual CTFP-funded education and training activities. The tables are assembled in alphabetical order, by country, and by respective combatant command regions. The information is further sub-categorized by training activity (i.e., Army, Air Force, Maritime, and non-Military Department activities).

1. READING THE DATA

- Most data in the report is “as of” October 1, 2005.
- The training activities and dollar amounts include funds expended to support all course costs, travel and living allowances paid, and medical expenditures. The FY05 dollars and training reported DO NOT reflect the FY05 CTFP allocation level for each country because CTFP funds were re-allocated throughout the year, based on under-performing countries and unanticipated needs.
- Total course costs reflect the respective schools’ advertised course costs (e.g., tuition and books) and estimated travel and living costs. Actual country total costs may vary depending on fluctuations in travel costs and living allowances and medical expenditures.
- Non-military department activities reported include: Regional Center initiatives, other combatant command activities and administrative costs.
